

Municipalities/Intendencia interview guideline

Show video on the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights, available at:

https://m.youtube.com/watch?v=TaM9_qzgleU

1. Introduction of the interviewee (name, surname, position, brief description of what he/she/they does/do in the municipality/the Municipality).
2. Have you ever heard of the UN Guiding Principles on Business and Human Rights?
3. How is the work of this organisation linked to the salmon industry (e.g. creating and administering a policy, assessing environmental impact, monitoring compliance with labour standards, etc.)?
4. Are any salmon companies carrying out community projects or initiatives in your municipality? If so, what do these initiatives consist of?
5. In your opinion, what are the benefits of the salmon industry for this region and for the country?
6. On the other hand, from the point of view of the organisation in which you work, what are the main problems, points of conflict or challenges that the Chilean salmon industry currently represents?
7. In your role as a representative of the local/regional government, do you consider that this organisation has sufficient powers to protect the human rights of workers and communities involved in the salmon industry?
8. In relation to the State's duty to protect human rights: Do you consider that the State fulfils this duty adequately? If not: What is missing?
9. In this commune/locality, have impacts of the salmon farming industry on the environment been identified? If yes, which ones?
10. In what way does this municipality/city council contribute to preventing the damage that the salmon industry can cause to the environment?
11. On the other hand, from the point of view of the organisation in which you work, what are the main problems, points of conflict or challenges that the Chilean salmon industry currently represents?
12. In your role as a representative of the local/regional government, do you consider that this organisation has sufficient powers to protect the human rights of workers and communities involved in the salmon industry?
13. In relation to the State's duty to protect human rights, do you consider that the State adequately fulfils this duty? If not, what is missing?
14. In this commune/locality, have impacts of the salmon farming industry on the environment been identified? If yes, which ones?

15. In what way does this municipality/city council contribute to preventing the damage that the salmon industry can cause to the environment?
16. According to the data handled by the Mayor's Office/Intendencia, what is the situation of the artisanal fishermen in this commune? How many are there, what are their main demands, how do they relate to the salmon companies, etc.?
17. In what ways does this organisation contribute to avoid, prevent or mitigate the effect that the salmon farming activity can have on the activity of artisanal fishermen?
18. What are the main challenges for the mayor's office/the municipality with regard to Indigenous Peoples and the salmon industry? How are these challenges being addressed?
19. What is your municipality doing to protect the rights of Indigenous Peoples in the face of possible impacts of the salmon farming industry?
20. What do you think of the ECMPOs and do you think they are a solution to address the customary rights of coastal indigenous communities?
21. When a worker or a person (whether a person belonging to an Indigenous community, a person linked to artisanal fishing or any other person in the community) considers that one or more of his/her human rights have been violated by a salmon company, or have not been adequately protected by the State, in what way can that person make his/her/their complaint visible, and access some kind of reparation?
22. Is this municipality aware of whether any complaints, grievances or even reparations of this kind have been filed in this locality/region?
23. Based on your experience in this commune/region, what recommendations would you make to companies in the industry in terms of good practices, respect and protection of human rights?
24. And to the State (legislative, executive, judicial), what would you recommend?
25. If you would like to address any other issue, please do so.