EVALUATION QUESTIONS TO BE ANSWERED

The political and institutional context in Tunisia is undergoing profound upheavals that have naturally affected the project. The evaluation will have to take this into account and consider the questions in light of this context.

- How has the project influenced IPFs' relationship building with state entities (i.e. legislative, judicial and executive, other independent actors, and civil society)?
- How has the project influenced IPI's national representativeness, dialogue and responsiveness to citizens' issues and needs?
- How has the project influenced IPIs in a disrupted and risky political context?
- How has the project influenced the effectiveness of IPFs in fulfilling their mandates?
- Which IPIs have benefited most from project support and how?
- How has the project influenced cooperation (and synergy) between IPIs?
- Overall, do the effects achieved confirm the validity of the project's theory of change (TOK)?
- How do the effects deviate from the expected pathways of TOK?
- If the effects collected do not confirm TOK, what does the analysis identify as causes?
- one of the strengths of the TRUST project is that it has managed to maintain relevant support to the authorities in its start-up phase or in different opportunities to adapt to contextual changes, how has the project implemented and operated this adaptability?
- Has the project influenced the emergence of effects that are likely to have lasting effects?
- Do the unexpected positive and negative effects have anything in common, are there trends?

The evaluation questions will be reviewed with the consultant(s) during the start-up period.
